

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) How can we get rid of a person that we do not like without hurting her feelings. She follows us around everywhere.

(2) What is flirting?
(3) If a person asks us directly if we like or dislike them, should we tell them the truth and nothing but the truth.

(4) Is it improper for a girl to use slang?
(5) Is it improper for a girl to speak to a boy to whom she has never been introduced, but has seen often and whom she knows through other people?

(6) Is it improper for a girl to wink at a boy or for a boy to wink at a girl? Is there any significance attached to it?
"CHUMS."

(1) Introduce her to somebody who won't mind having her around, or tell her frankly that you wish to be alone and be firm about it.
(2) Flirting is playing with fire—making love to somebody you don't love but would like to put on your string of conquests. It usually ends by hurting the girl the most.

(3) It depends upon the situation. Be honest but be as diplomatic as possible.

(4) It is unadvisable.

(5) It would be better if they were properly introduced.

(6) Yes. A boy feels that he can take any liberties with a girl who will wink at him.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been acquainted with a young man about four months. He is quite timid. The last time he paid me a visit he was showing me a picture of himself. I believe it was meant for me. I asked him for it. He wanted to exchange with me. Not having one of myself, I couldn't do so, but he gave me his.

(1) Should I write to him thanking him for same? If so, what shall I say?

(2) When I get a picture of myself should I send him one?

(3) I received a card from a man and he came that same week. Should I answer that or wait for another?

BROWN-EYED BEAUTY.
(1) If you saw him personally when he gave you his photograph I presume you said everything that was necessary at that time. If he mailed it to you, acknowledge its receipt and tell him that you are much pleased to have the picture of so good a friend.

(2) It is not necessary to send him one in return. Girls are too anxious to give their pictures to young men, as a rule. Wait until you are engaged before giving your picture to a man.

(3) He received his answer in person when he called.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I am a pretty girl; am very neat in my clothes. I am in love with a boy nearly thirteen and I am fourteen. I want you to tell me how to win his love. I am afraid he doesn't love me.

(2) Tell me how to make my skin white.

M. E. R.
(1) You are just a little girl and the boy is just a child. You are old enough not to be silly, though, my dear, and the boy will certainly think you silly if he knows that you want to win his love. I can just hear him snort with disgust.

(2) If your skin is naturally dark you can't make it white. But you can make yourself healthy and clean and have a clear skin with a good healthy glow in it, which will be a great deal prettier than if you put a lot of white powder on it.

SEVERE ITCHING AND BURNING

Eczema Began With Pimples on Lower Limbs. Constantly Tormented. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment Cured in Ten Days.

203 Walnut St., Hillsboro, Ill.—"My child had a breaking out on the lower limbs which developed into eczema. The eczema began with pimples which contained yellow corruption and from the child's clothing they were greatly irritated. They seemed to burn, which made the child scratch them, resulting in a mass of open places. They made her so cross and fretful that it was impossible to keep her quiet. They caused her to lose much sleep and she was constantly tormented by severe itching and burning. I tried several well-known remedies, but got no relief until I got a sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment, which did so much good that I got a large quantity that cured her in ten days after she had been affected for two months." (Signed) Mrs. Edith Schwartz, Feb. 28, 1913.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

CONDUCTED BY MRS. ANNETT OTCHELL, RICE

"Good cooking means the knowledge of all fruits, herbs, balsms and spices, and all that is healing and sweet in fields and groves and savory in meats. It means carefulness, inventiveness, watchfulness, willingness and readiness of appliances. It means the economy of your great grandmothers and the science of modern chemists."—Ruskin.

Ruskin surely had a large conception of cooking in the home, and if we could not live up to all of it all at once we might take a sentence or phrase at a time and give it careful study. For instance, how much does every reader know of fruits and the value of them as foods and the effects of the different acids? Then the "herbs, balsms and spices." If we desire to use them in the seasoning of our foods they should be understood and only the purest purchased, not dried leaves and what not mixed up for "spice and all things nice."

These spices are to use more from now until the holiday season than at any other one season of the year, and great thought should be given to this supply. Find out who the best makers of these spices are, get the name and then insist upon them and take no other. Do not buy them in paper bags to stand around and lose their strength and eventually much of it wasted. This is not real economy, as the very best only costs a trifle more and is put up in clean cans where neither spice nor flavor is lost. This is one of the things which Ruskin meant by "carefulness" and "watchfulness."

These cool days have made us long for a pumpkin pie or the smell of the spicy gingerbread and cookies. It is a very natural craving and with good material is very easily satisfied in the homes where good cooking is not considered a bore, but a pleasure, a real creation of things which add to the health of the family.

Doughnuts.
Materials—Pastry flour, four cups; sugar, one cup; milk, one cup; baking powder, three teaspoonsful; salt, one teaspoonful; mixed spices, one-half teaspoonful; egg, one; melted butter or vegetable fat, one tablespoonful.

Put into the flour sifter one and one-fourth cups of pastry flour, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt, the same of baking powder and sift two or three times. Cut one-third cup of shortening well into this and add ice water a little at a time, stirring with the knife until paste is formed. Flour the pastry board, roll and cover pie tin. Fasten the edges well and pour in the squash mixture and bake in moderate oven about thirty minutes.

All measurements level unless otherwise stated. Flour sifted once before measuring.

The Argus Daily Pattern

With Nothing to Mar Their Charming Simplicity.

Nothing is quite as dear to the heart of woman as the dainty negligee into which she slips with such a feeling of luxury in the seclusion of her own room. She may revel in its supple fabric, its soft colorings and the grace of its frills and flounces with never a misgiving as to its suitability, for it is the one garment that may be as plain or as fancy as the fancy desires without losing its charm.

Printed silks or cotton crepes with quaint, impossible flowers or old-fashioned looking designs sprinkled here and there are admirably suited to negligees, and the plain crepes and mullas are dainty, too, offering possibilities for frills and flounces galore.

7541 is a pretty empire model, depending upon graceful lines and the eddily patterned material for effect, rather than more elaborate trimmings. The lace butterfly across the front is one of those attractive trifles, quickly and easily made, that do so much to make a garment distinctive.

To make this model in size 36 it requires 4 1/2 yards of 48 inch material. No. 7541 is a design that, made up in a softly tinted albatross or elderdown trimmed with tiny frills of net or ribbon and washed in a vivid Futurist silk, would bring joy to the boarding school girl. It would also be pretty in a silk or crepe.

Three and three-quarter yards of 36 inch material is needed to copy 7541 in size 10.

To obtain either pattern illustrated fill out this coupon and enclose 15 cents in stamps or coin. Be sure to state number of pattern and size, measuring over the fullest part of the bust for dimensions. Address Pattern Department.

THE CHEROKEE, IOWA, DEMOCRAT of Sept. 26 contains the following account of the marriage of John F. Schneider, proprietor of the pharmacy at Seventh avenue and Twenty-seventh street, this city, and Miss Vera Love Champion of Cherokee:

"Miss Vera Love Champion of Cherokee, Iowa, and John F. Schneider of Rock Island were principals in a happy mating which occurred at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Champion, Thursday, Sept. 25. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. S. Forey of the First M. E. church, at 12 o'clock, noon, in the presence of a number of relatives and close friends. The impressive ring ceremony was used. The bride and groom were attended by the parents of the bride, it being their 35th anniversary, they being married at the same hour on Sept. 25, 1880. To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Myrtle Kniffe, the couple took their places under an arch of flowers and ferns, where the words were spoken which made them man and wife. "O, Promise Me" was sung by Mrs. Beach Ridenour, cousin of the bride, accompanied by Miss Kniffe. The bride wore a beautiful gown of crepe de chine and carried a bouquet of cream rosebuds. After the ceremony and congratulations a bountiful three-course dinner was served, music being rendered by Miss Kniffe. The bride's favorite colors, pink and white, were carried out in the decorations throughout the house. Many beautiful and costly wedding gifts were received.

"The couple left on the afternoon train for a short honeymoon visit in Sioux City and Sanborn, returning to Cherokee Wednesday morning for the east, visiting in Des Moines, Cedar Rapids and other points on their way to Rock Island, where they will be at home after Oct. 20.

"Mr. Schneider is well known in Rock Island, being engaged in the drug business at 2709 Seventh avenue.
